
Setting for KDL46Z4100

Posted by prhd - 2008/07/21 08:02

The Sony 46Z4100 is not listed on the website. Is there any other Sony model that could be used as a reference until the settings were available :(?

Hi prhd,

Thank you for your interest in TweakTV. While we don't have your exact model in our data base, we do have the settings for a model that is similar to yours. It is the 46W4100 and should be very close. Try them at the link below, and let us know if you see any improvement.

I tried the settings and I saw a great improvement :) . Skin does not look as red as it used to, even though some sort of red setting was increased. Colors look very nice. Thanks. BTW is there any specific setting for the backlight?

Hi prhd ,

Thank you for the kind words. I am glad you are happy with the results. As for the Backlight if there is one try 3 and if that is not bright enough go up to 4. That should give you relatively good blacks.
